DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1, 5-6, 9-19, and 54 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Regarding claim 1, line 2 of the claim, “a mobile object” is confusing to the examiner when the rest of the claim teaches device(s). The examiner does not know if the mobile object is the same as the device(s) or a different object that is tracked.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 28-32 and 45-46 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Vataja (US Pat Pub# 2002/0123327).

Regarding claims 28 and 45, Vataja teaches means for obtaining a message based on input from the sender (Sections 0025-0028); means for obtaining a designated location based on input from the sender (Sections 0004-0006 and 0027); means for obtaining identification of at least two recipients, from among the plurality of potential recipients, based on input from the sender (Sections 0004-0006, 0027-0028, and 0031-0032); and means for automatically delivering the message electronically to a first one of the identified recipients based upon the position of the first one of the identified recipients relative to a second one of the identified recipients, as derived from the position-determining technology (Sections 0008 0023, 0025, and 0029-0032, the sender and the first recipient are the same device with different parties (i.e. people) each using it at different times during the sending and positioning compared to the second device with second recipients being a different party (i.e. people)), with each of the sender and the at least two recipients being different parties (Sections 0008 0023, 0025, and 0029-0032, does not state different devices so a different person can use the device at a different time to read on the limitation). Vataja fails to teach a second one of the identified recipients.

Regarding claims 30 and 46, Vataja teaches means for obtaining, at the server, a message based on input from a first client (Sections 0025-0028); means for obtaining, at the server, an identification of a second, mobile client as the intended recipient for receiving the message, based on input from the first client (Sections 0004-0006, 0027-0028, and 0031-0032); means for obtaining, at the server, an identification of a third client, based on input from the first client (Sections 0004-0006, 0027-0028, and 0031-0032); and means for automatically triggering electronic delivery of the message to the second client of the intended recipient upon the second, client being determined to be at a designated position relative to the third client (Sections 0008, 0023, 0025, and 0029-0032, since at least some of the clients are only being mobile as stated earlier in the claim that means that the second and third client can have the same device and switch off at different stages of the process which reads on the limitations), with each of the first, second, and third clients being different clients (Sections 0008 0023, 0025, and 0029-0032, does not state different devices so a different person (i.e. client) can use the device at a different time to read on the limitation).

Regarding claim 29, Vataja teaches wherein each of the plurality of potential recipients includes a position-determining device to determine its current position (Sections 0004-0008 and 0027-0032).

Regarding claim 31, Vataja teaches wherein the third client is also a mobile client having a position-determining device (Sections 0004-0008 and 0027-0032).

Regarding claim 32, Vataja teaches wherein the first and second clients are the same client (Sections 0004-0008 and 0027-0032).

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 20-22, 33-42, and 47-50 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 5-6, 9-19, 28-32, 45-46, and 54 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

7. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
